

We're Going to a Show at Stuart's Opera House!

The show is at #30 Public Square, Nelsonville, OH
(We can park on the Public Square or in a nearby parking lot.)

We will come in this door

And go down this hall

Into a room with a stage.

There are different places to sit to watch the show.

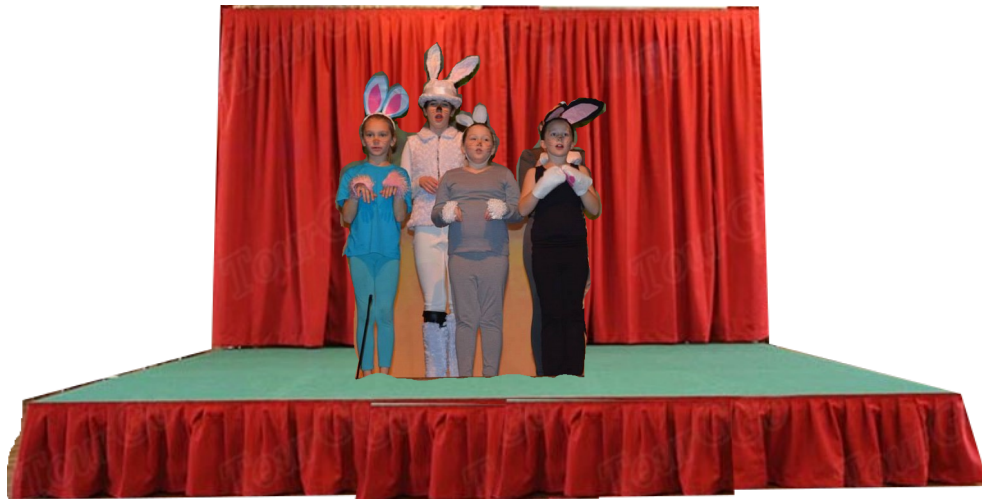

We can sit on mats on the floor.

We can sit in a chair.

We can sit in a wheelchair.

(Grownups can come, too.)

The actors will be on the stage (and sometimes on the floor beside the stage).

Sometimes they will wear makeup to look like animals. Sometimes they will wear masks and costumes.

The actors will sing and dance. Sometimes they may ask us to help them, if we want to. If we don't want to, that's fine too.

There are two bathrooms in the hall where we come in and one more down the hall behind the stage.

A table in the corner of the room has ear muffs and dark glasses, if we need them. The table also has fidget toys. We can take one if we need to.

There is a chill-out room in the hall if we need to use it.

The first act will have songs about friends and what they do together. Then there will be an intermission and we can have some snacks. The second act will have a short play about Winnie the Pooh and his friends with more songs.

After the play we can talk to the actors and take pictures.

Then we will go home—but we can always come back and see another show!
